Hi Graham,

We've just got back from Riverwood - found the place okay - we were the only ones scrutineering for Pauline until after lunch, when 3 people arrived from the Central Coast. They're staying there for a while longer, and Ron will be going back after a little while, so he'll be there this evening. My feet are playing up, so I'll take the evening off.

Ron will be there fairly early in the morning, probably by himself, and see how things on on from there. We don't know how the tally is going, as they don't have that info until they get home and onto their own computer apparently.

One thing we picked up was, the worker checking the blank papers found that there were 15 J votes enclosed in a batch of 50 blank votes. She immediately pulled them out and reported it to the supervisor, who said he would put in his own report about the incident. He said they probably came from East Hills. Another worker said she had never seen so many mistakes before, all from local Riverwood voters.

We were getting on well with the staff, all nice and friendly, and helpful about signalling us when any bundles of J votes were being counted.

Another thing, the coffee they provided was firstrate!

No problems, thought you would like to know how we got on. Ron will let you know how things go this evening.

Best regards,
Lynette Hammonds
